

APPENDIX III

Chronological Index of Imprints

Imprint dates are not, of course, a sure guide to the year of acquisition, even after 1536 when Geste was in a position to purchase books as soon as these became available from Cambridge booksellers. It was not Geste's practice to record when a book was acquired, and in only a very few instances is there any indication in the item itself, e.g. in the case of three presentations in February 1551 (B122, E55 and J12) and second-hand copies in which a purchase price and date occurs (P15). As was to be expected, the earliest imprints often contain evidence of previous ownership. Of his sixteen incunabula, for example, all but three contain evidence of previous ownership. Over half of his post-incunabula (1500–1520) were clearly second-hand (thirty-four out of sixty-four), and of the remaining items with imprints which pre-date Geste's admission to King's College in August 1536 (a little over two hundred), forty-six carry clear evidence of earlier ownership and there are a further twenty-four where there is less certainty. Such second-hand items are indicated after the class-mark by † for a pre-Geste ownership inscription or ‡ for pre-Geste MS annotations, book-price or book-title(s) on fore-edge or spine. After 1536, most of his acquisitions were of new copies, with only fourteen of those with imprints between 1536 and 1554 of pre-Geste provenance (out of about three hundred), and of the remaining items obtained after Geste left Cambridge in 1554 (over six hundred) only eight have been identified with pre-Geste ownership inscriptions.

In the index which follows, the year of publication is given as this appears in the imprint or colophon, except where a date between January and March is given. In such instances the date is adjusted to include our modern reckoning and shown in the form, e.g. '1566/67'.

In the case of items in composite volumes containing publications of different dates, the year of the latest item is given in the second column after the imprint date. Although Geste may have purchased the item concerned at about the time of its publication or soon after, it is not always possible to tell, even from his binding instructions (where these survive), whether he had purchased all the items (of different dates) at the same time (perhaps already bound) or whether he had accumulated the items over a period time to have them all bound together at about the date of the latest item or sometime after that. Those books with his instructions giving the books to be included or the order of the items to be bound together are shown by '+' after the date in the second column.

Many of Geste's books were not commonly held in other Cambridge libraries or private collections of the period, including contemporary inventories (BiCI), and the libraries of Andrew Perne and Matthew Parker. These are shown by a $ after the catalogue-number and amount to nearly forty per cent of his collection. Some twenty per cent (shown by $$ after the catalogue number) do not even occur in Adams, which includes later Cambridge college acquisitions, or in the University Library.

The geographical origin of items still in contemporary bindings are shown by the following codes:

C	Cambridge	SW	'Swiss' [Basle]
