John Dee’s Library Catalogue

Additions and corrections

November 2009

Purpose and method

When our edition of John Dee’s library catalogue (here referred to as R&W and its editors as RJR and AGW) was published in 1990 we hoped that the facsimile of the catalogue in Trinity College, Cambridge, together with facsimiles of Dee’s hand and annotations, would lead to the identification of more of his books and to better-informed discussion of the way in which he used them. These hopes have been sufficiently realised to encourage us to publish them in a format that will allow further discoveries to be incorporated. We had originally hoped to reprint the 1990 edition in toto but the expense of doing so turned out to be prohibitive; for this reason the editions and corrections are now published on the Bibliographical Society’s web-site.

Our close study of the formation of Dee’s library provided a great deal of new information about his life and much of this has been incorporated into RJR’s article on him in the Oxford Dictionary of National Biography (Oxford, 2004), here referred to as ODNB. Many of the persons with whom he came into contact also appear in ODNB, and we have drawn attention to these articles where they usefully supplement our text.

Further discoveries of books and manuscripts from Dee’s library have been made and discussed. We should mention first the proceedings of a conference held at Birkbeck College, University of London, in 1995, which have been updated and published under the editorship of Stephen Clucas as John Dee: Interdisciplinary Studies in English Renaissance Thought (Dordrecht, 2006). Some of these papers are referred to below. The volume also contains an early version of these additions and corrections by RJR, and, most usefully, a bibliography of recent (1988–2005) books on Dee.

An important study of Dee’s practice of annotation was published by William H. Sherman as a chapter, ‘Dee marginalia’, in his John Dee: the Politics of Reading and Writing in the English Renaissance (Amherst, 1995). This makes use of our edition of the catalogue but in the course of his work Professor Sherman discovered some books unknown to us and we acknowledge them below.

A conservation study in the library of Trinity College Dublin revealed a number of printed books that had belonged to Dee among the books of Archbishop Ussher, who, as we record in R&W, owned more than a dozen of Dee’s medieval manuscripts. As one of Ussher’s correspondents (R&W p. 65) asked to ‘have the names of such mathematical books as were Dee’s’, and none of the manuscripts or newly discovered printed books are in fact mathematical, it may well be that more of Dee’s books will come to light in Trinity College.

Dee’s possession of Welsh books and manuscripts (R&W pp. 39–40) has been further treated by RJR in an article ‘John Dee and the Matter of Britain’ in the Transactions of the Honourable Society of Cymmrodorion (1991), pp. 129–143. An important addition to this appears at no. 1645.

A consequence of the form of publication we have chosen is that we have had to transcribe the original entries in Dee’s catalogue, TCD MS O.4.20 (1251) (which, by the most unfortunate of oversights, we have recorded in the list of Abbreviations, R&W p. v, as MS O.4.2). In R&W p.49, we explain at length the significance of ‘H’, ‘T’ and ‘Fr’. We particularly regret that we have been unable to reproduce the bookseller’s code that we mention in R&W p. 64. It occurs quite frequently in these Additions, at nos. 23, 230, 273, 548, 860, 1101, 1568, 1583, 1590, 1605, 1606, D26. An example appears in R&W pl. VIIIa.

In our list of Abbreviated titles we update titles recorded in R&W, i.e. we record new editions. In general we do not record new publications, which must be sought in Clucas, John Dee.

New items, i.e. not in R&W’s text or index, are marked ¶. Additions to R&W’s text or index are in the form ‘Add so-and-so’.

Notes on Books and Manuscripts

2  T  Concordantiae Bibliorum Joh. Benedicti f°. paris. 1562

Dee’s copy is now Cambridge Mass., Harvard University, Houghton Library, call number f°EC.D3604.Zz526b. It is inscribed ‘Joannes Dee .’ and ‘preitium 12s’. The inscription ‘Bib: Harvin’ (18th cent.) indicates that it was previously in the library of Harvington Hall, Worcs. (information from the late D. M. Rogers’ provenance index in the Bodleian Library).

The name ‘Rob: Hyd.’ Is probably that of Robert Heydon 1683–1718 who officiated at Harvington 1712–14. The initials ‘EK’ and the name ‘J Kyn’ probably represent members of the Kinn, Kyn or Kynne family, some of whose books are found in the Harvington Library. Edward Kynne (1625–1711) succeeded his brother John in 1683 as Roman Catholic archdeacon of Worcestershire and Gloucestershire (David Higham, The Priests and People of Harvington, 2006, and information from Philip Harris).

22  T  Platonis opera à Marsilio Ficino conversa & commentarijs illustrata f° Basil

Dee’s copy of a Froben edn of 1532 is now Cambridge, St John’s College, Cc.2.16. ‘IOHN DEE’ is written on the bottom edge in front of the tail-band and the title’Opera platonis’ on the fore-edge. ‘P. Ssaunder<s>[sic]’ is written at the head of the titlepage. Dee heavily annotated and underlined Ficino’s argumenta to many dialogues and the text of some, notably Phaedo, Timaeus and Critias. Bequeathed to the College by Peter Gunning, bp. of Ely, in 1684 (AC, AO).

23  T  Etymologicum Magnum græcum f°. ven. aldus 1549

Dee’s copy is now Oxford, Corpus Christi College, O.9.8, inscribed ‘Joannes Dee .1572.’ Also ‘Sum Christophori Gardyneri(?)’ in a hand of s. xvii and a Greek motto. There are a few Greek side-notes, probably not Dee’s. Bequeathed to the College by John Rosewell, fellow, 1684.

78  Fr  Vicomercatus in Aristotelis Meteora f°. paris 1556

Dee’s copy is Manchester, Chetham’s Library, Dd.3.64(2) (Information from Matthew Yeo.) It is inscribed on t.p. ‘Joannes Dee 1556.4.dec. Londini.’ There are no annotations.
John Dee’s Library Catalogue

133 FR Pauli Germani de Middelburgo, de recta paschæ celebratione & de die passionis Christi, libri 19. f° Forosempronij 1513.

Dee’s copy is now TCD, DD.d.36 (formerly DD.4.36 and M.3.5). At the head of the title-page is ‘Nicolaus de nale’; then ‘Joannes Dee ex dono humanissimi viri Nicolai de Nale 1557 .16. Aprilis Londini In die passionis Domini’; then ‘Servire Deo regnare est W: Crashawe: 160<?>’. At the foot of the page is ‘forosempronij 1513’ perhaps in Crashawe’s hand. Although there are few notes after lib. 14 there are heavy annotations throughout in a variety of Dee’s hands, especially on the calendar, and Dee always draws attention to the English writers Roger Bacon, John of Salisbury, ‘Lincolnensis’ and Eschenden. Nicolas de Nale was a merchant of Danish origin recorded as living in the City London in five years of which the earliest is 1541 and the latest 1571; see Returns of Aliens in the City and Suburbs of London from the Reign of Henry VIII to that of James I (Huguenot Society Publications, X, 4 vols. (1900–1908). Later owned by abp. Ussher.

162, 163 The call numbers of the books in the Bibliothèque municipale at Angers are 2215 and 2215A.

230 J. Davis spoyle

Georgij vallæ opera f°. ven. 1501

Correctly, De expetendis et fugiendis rebus opus. Dee’s copy is now TCD, EE.aa.30. At head of titlepage is ‘Joannes Deëus /1550 .24: julij / Parisijs. prætium 10 franch. 4s:’ This was bought four days after Dee’s arrival in Paris and two days after the purchase of three other books. Lightly annotated throughout with notes that usually correct or criticise Valla. On a5° is a cropped note ‘<>verbum ex primo libro <Proc>li in Euclidem, traduxit. <O>bscurè valde, ut omnia vero hos libros correximus <>is ubicque illustravimus & <>lijs, & in linguam latinam <du?>cere, anno 1549. Vltimo Augusti Lo<vanii?>. Later owned by abp. Ussher.

233 Fr Wolfgang Lazius de migrationibus gentium f°. Oporin

Dee’s copy of the edition of 1572 was acquired by Maggs Brothers from the Macclesfield Library at Shirburn Castle. (Information from Paul Quarrie.) There are notes, corrections and underlinings by Dee throughout, notably on English and ‘British’ history, and a long and disparaging note on the flyleaf is dated ‘junij ultimo 1574’, perhaps written before Dee’s Welsh journey of 1574.

In a contemporary (continental?) vellum binding. Later William Crashaw’s, With his motto ‘Servare Deo regnare est’
267 Fr Bernardini Longi Expositio in prologum Averrhois in posteriorem Aristotelis latinè f. Neapoli 1551

There is a copy of this work (not Dee’s) in the Bodleian Library.

273 T ∆ Navigationi & viaggi de’ diversi, raccolti da Ramusi italicè fè ven. 2 volum.

Dee’s copy is now TCD, DD.dd.40, 41 (formerly DD.aa.18, DD.13.18 and Q.2.9). It is of the Giunta edition of 1563–65. It is unsigned. The three volumes, bound in two, are massively annotated throughout, usually in English. There are frequent notes of travel times and distances. Dee refers several times to the voyage of Prince Madoc in 1170, to the early preaching of the Gospel in America and to the prior title of the British to the New World. On vol. 3 are frequent, and approving, signs of interest in settlement and trade in north America. On fol. 148 of vol. 3 a note refers to Dee’s (previously unknown) presence in Rome in July 1563. Later owned by abp. Ussher.

282 Joh Davis spoyle

+∆ Josiæ Simleri Bibliothecæ Gesneri Epitom f’Tig. 1574

Dee’s copy is now Bodleian Lib., Arch. H.c.7. The book’s history after Dee’s time is not known. After the 1939–45 war, it was in the stock of David’s Bookshop in Cambridge, whence it was acquired by Professor A. C. Hamilton, Queen’s University, Kingston, Ontario, Canada. from whom it was acquired by the Bodleian in 1992. For a full account of Dee’s many annotations see R. J. Roberts, Bodleian Library Record xiv/6 (1994), 529–33.

338 Fr Jacobi Carpentarij animadversiones in Rami libros tres dialeticarum institutionum 4o paris 1555

Dee’s copy is now TCD, EE.hh.33 (formerly GG.17.33). At the head of the titlepage is ‘Joannes Dee 1556. 26 Martij.’ His underlinings and notes are found throughout. Later owned by abp. Ussher.

387 Fr Clementis Romani Episcopi de rebus D. Petri Epitome, græcè, 4o paris 1555 [H inserts ‘gestis’ after ‘rebus]

A supposititious work. Dee’s copy is now TCD, BB.i.23 (formerly E.4.18 and C44). At the head of the titlepage is ‘Joannes Dee 1555. 29. Sep.’ There are no other annotations. In a contemporary calf binding with blind-tooled blank shields in the centre of each cover. Later owned by abp. Ussher.
416 J Davis spoyle

Add that this was lot 220 in the B. H. Bright sale at Sotheby’s, 3 March 1845 (information from the late Dr Brian Lawn). The sale catalogue records Dee’s ex libris and that it was later owned by Narcissus Luttrell. At the sale it went to Rodd for 7s.

446 Fr Albumasaris introductorium in astronomiam 4° Ven. 1506

Dee’s copy is now CUL, R*.4.23¹(D), bound (not for Dee?) with 421. There are a few notes and underlinings probably by Dee.

499 Jo Davis spoyle
Consentij & Cassiodori disciplinarum liberalium orbis. 4° Basileæ. 1528

The copy at TCD, EE. e. 26, has a few notes and underlinings which may be Dee’s. Later owned by abp. Ussher.

548 Fr Joh. balei de scriptoribus Brytanniae, centuriae quinque 4° Wesaliæ. 1549

Dee’s copy is now Cambridge, St John’s College, A. 2.29 (information from Professor W. H. Sherman, York). Signed on titlepage ‘Joannes Dee 1555 .28.Sept. ex dono Tristrami Suadel’. There are some annotations particularly by Dee in the early part of the book. ‘Suadel’ is almost certainly Tristram Swadell, rector of Stepney and prebendary of St Paul’s, deprived in 1560 (AC). Gift to the College by Thomas Baker, ejected Fellow, with many notes, apparently his.

578 Fr Francesco Serdonati de’ fatti d’arme de’ Romani 4°. Ven. 1572

The copy at TCD, EE.f.32 may be Dee’s; the price ‘pret: ijs. iiij.d’ written below the colophon may be in his hand. Later owned by abp. Ussher.

661 The pressmark of the National Library of Wales copy is b51 P3(7).

701 T Jordani Ruffi opusculum de Equis, lingua vulgari -/. italica 4°. Bresciae 1493

Professor T. A. Birrell has pointed out that this is L’Arte de cognoscere la natura de cavalli. Although it has only a few underlinings, the BL copy IA 31020 may well have been Dee’s.
There is a copy (not Dee’s) in the Bodleian Library.

736 Fr Psellus de arithmetica, Musica, Geometria, & Proclus de Sphæra latine 8°. Paris 1557
The copy at BL, 531.d.8(1), probably not Dee’s, is signed ‘Thomas Diggius. Anno 155<>’. With it is bound a copy of 1026, probably also Digges’s. On Digges see R&W p. 43, and ODNB.

812 T Ignatij Epistolæ græcè & lat. 8°. Paris 1562
The copy at TCD, BB.g.36 (formerly BB.16.36 and H.2.11), is heavily annotated in Greek in a hand that may be Dee’s. Later owned by abp. Ussher.

856 T Achillis P. Gassari Epitome historiarum & chronicorum mundi. 8°. Lugduni
Dee’s copy is now CUL, L*.6.60 [1538]. On the title page is ‘P. Saunders’ (information from Prof. W. H. Sherman). There are extensive notes and underlinings by Dee, in particular to entries for the ‘British History’ but also to later events.

860 Fr Bartholomæus Viottus de demonstratione 8°. Paris 1560
Dee’s copy is in the London, Wellcome Library, 7424/A, inscribed ‘Joannes Dee 1561’. It was lot 3058 in the sale by Sotheby’s of the library of the Earls of Macclesfield at Shirburn Castle, 25/26 October 2006. Also on the title-page is ‘Fran Bernard 1669’ in red crayon. The library of Francis Bernard, physician (1625–98) was sold 4 October 1698. There are numerous notes (mostly emphatic) by Dee, up to p. 93 of lib. 2 and a few underlinings thereafter, and a few notes by Bernard. Bound in 18th century calf; some notes are cropped. (Information from Julianne Simpson).

1011 Fr Michaël. Neander de Methodo artium 8°. Oporin 1556
Dee’s copy is now TCD, EE.kk.54 (formerly EE.19.54). Apart from ‘Joannes Dee 1556’ at the head of titlepage there are no notes. Later owned by abp. Ussher.
1027 T Claudius Campensis in Aristot. De memoria & recordatione 8° parisijis 1556.

Dee’s copy is now BL 1030.e.1 (2). It is unsigned but has frequent underlinings and notes, some of which can be dated to 1556, as Dee noted on fol. 17v ‘Author 30 annorum hoc anno 1556.’

1101 T’ Historia del mondo nuovo di Fernando Colombo. 8° ven. 1571

Dee’s copy is now BL 615.d.7 (information from Prof. W. H. Sherman; see his ‘John Dee’s Columbian encounter’, in Clucas, John Dee, 131–40.). One of the most heavily annotated of all Dee’s books, mainly in English. Another hand is also occasionally found. The Sloane pressmark g.300 appears on the titlepage; a mark of ownership(?) beside the printer’s device has been heavily crossed out. Dee’s annotations reveal his intense interest in Colombo’s account of his father’s voyages and in particular in the customs and appearance of the inhabitants of the New World. Dee makes several notes about the voyage of Madoc ap Owain Gwynedd, ‘white men’ (fol. 114’) and to the ‘Brytishe custom of names’ (fol. 125) which suggest that he was looking for evidence of Madoc.

1143 Fr Matthæi Judicis de typographiæ inventione & de prælorum legitima inspectione, libellus 8° Coppenag. 1566.

Dee’s copy is Middle Temple Library BAY L530. Inscribed ‘Joannes Dee. 1567’. In a contemporary limp vellum binding. Single underlining.

1158 Secreti dell’arte profumatoria italice 8° ven 1555

The late Dr Brian Lawn informed us that this is Notandissimi de l’arte profumatoria: a fare ogli, acque, paste, balle, moscardini, etc. Venezia, F. Rampazzetto, 1555, 12°. It was lot 417 in Captain H. Trotter’s sale, Christie’s, Feb. 10/11 1947, bought by Myers of Bond St for £12. It bears Dee’s signature and date 1558. Its present location is not known.

1186 Fr Illyrici paralipomena dialectices 8° Bas 1558

The late Dr Brian Lawn informed us that Goldschmidt offered this book of Dee’s in at least three catalogues beside 47.
1198  T  Artemidori de somniorum interpretatione libri quinque. Item de insomnijis . . . 8° ven Aldus Dee’s copy is CUL, Sel.6.54 (previously 3.33.33 (information from Dr Nigel Ramsay). At the head of the title-page is ‘Joannes Dee 1550. Parisiis’. Thje text is entirely in Greek and without annotation. The binding is of 19th century calf, stamped in blind with the Aldine device.

1459  Alchimicus libellus anonimi cuiusdam, lingua belgica. 8° Campis 1551

Simon Andree. Kunst boecke nyeulijck wten alchemistischen gront vergadert, 1551 (information from Professor T. A. Birrell). A copy, not Dee’s, is in the BL.

1552  Tractatus in dialogi forma de pythonicis

Perhaps the tract, in dialogue form, by Ulrich Molitor, as 1035, of which it may be an earlier edition.

1559  R. David Kimchi liber radicum, sive Thesaurus linguæ sanctæ, vel dictionarium hebraicum f° ven. Daniel. Bombergs

Dee’s copy is Bodleian Lib., EE.17 Art. Seld., inscribed ‘Joannes Dee 1565:’. Later owned by John Selden, with his Greek motto. There are no notes but alterations to the column numbers and some titling on the rear covers may be Dee’s.

1560  Concordantiae hebraicæ in f°. minori. ven.

Dee’s copy is now Sidney Sussex College, Cambridge, Y-3-15, inscribed ‘Concordantiae Maiores. Joannes Dee: 1565’ and, below the imprint, ‘Venetijs', with an illegible date or code (probably M.C.∅). Given or bequeathed to the College by Paul Micklethwait, fellow of Sidney, incorporated at Oxford, 1615, d. 1639 (AC).

1568  Pentateuchus Mosis item quinque Magna cantica . . . 4°. ven. 1551

Dee’s copy is TCD, CC.g.3 (formerly AA.7.3 and A.2.2). At the head of the titlepage is ‘Joannes Dee 1561: Londini’. There are few Dee notes and underlinings. Later owned by abp. Ussher.

1571  Despite the shelf-mark, later owned by John Selden.
1583 Fr Seb. Munsteri Grammatica Chaldaïca 4º frob. 1527.

Dee’s copy is in the possession of Professor Owen Gingerich, Cambridge, Mass. It is inscribed, in mirror-writing, ‘Joannes Dee: 1561: Londini’. On the title-page is also ‘Jo: Brock’ in a 17th-century hand. Professor Gingerich informs us that Brock’s name also occurs (as Joh. Broci) on the colophon, and the name of John Higginson (?1616–1708, Minister at Salem, whose father, Francis, studied at St John’s and Jesus Colleges, Cambridge, and came to the Massachusetts Company as a minister in 1629: ODNB). If, as is likely, the book came to America with Higginson, it suggests that Brock was American too. The book later belonged to several American institutions and finally to the Episcopal Divinity School at Cambridge.

1585 Fr Rabbi Abraham Hispani ben R. Hayyæ, Sphaera mundi &c. hebraïcè cum versione latina Schreckenfuchsij & Munsteri annotationibus. 4º Basileæ H[einrich] p[etri] 1546

Dee’s copy is now probably Bodleian Lib., 4º A 43 Art. Seld. There are a few underlinings and notes that may be his. Later owned by John Selden.

1590 Fr Precationes Bibliæ, heb. græcè & latine 8º paris 1554

The copy recorded by Rawlinson is now Corpus Christi College, Cambridge, Parker Lib., Y.5.21 (information from Professor W. H. Sherman). On the titlepage is ‘Joannes Dee: 1564: Martij 10 Antw.’

1605 Jo. Dauis spoyle.

Jonas propheta hebraïcè cum versione latina et exercitatione Grammaticali Wigandi Happellij 8º Basileæ: 1561

Dee’s copy is now TCD, CC.g.9 (formerly AA.7.9). At head of titlepage is ‘Joannes Dee 1562’. There is a single underlining. Later owned by abp. Ussher.

1606 Fr Joh Isaacii defensio veritatis hebraïcæ sacrarum scripturarum adversus Wilhelmi Lindani libros tres de optimo scripturas interpretandi ratione 8º colon. 1559

Dee’s copy may now be TCD, Cc.h.61 (formerly A.8.61). There are no notes. Later owned by abp. Ussher.
1620 T Thesei Ambrosij Grammatica Chaldaïca, Syriaca & Armenica. Item Appendix multarum diversarumque linguarum. 4° Papiae. 1539

Dee’s copy is now in fact St John’s College, Cambridge, L.8.35 (information from Elizabeth Quarmby-Lawrence). It is signed ‘Joannes Dee 1563: Junij .6. Venetijs’ and, bracketed off, ‘pretium 10(?) F F(?)’; above the title is ‘pret. 10s’. There are underlinings and annotations by Dee throughout and, at the end, his ‘Perlegi festinus’.

1645 T William Salesbury his Dictionarie in Englishe & Welshe, or Brytishe. 4° London 1547

Dee’s copy is now TCD, EE.e.32 (formerly C.10.17). At the head of the titlepage is ‘John Dee’. In the first half of the book, up to sig. K, he extensively annotated and corrected it; in some instances where Salesbury had put words of English origin in the ‘Camræc’ column, Dee supplied a Welsh word and occasionally, where Salesbury left a blank, he supplied an English equivalent. He also corrected equivalents in both languages. Later owned by abp. Ussher. See R. G. Gruffydd and R. J. Roberts, ‘John Dee’s additions to William Salesbury’s Dictionary’, Transactions of the Honourable Society of Cymmrodorion, n.s. 7 (2001), 19–43.

1671 T Vocabulario de quatro linguas, gall., Ital lat, & hispanic. 4° Lovanij 1558

The Vocabulario de quatro linguas, 1558 (identified by Professor T. A. Birrell). The only copy recorded by J. Peeters-Fontainas, Bibliographie des impressions espagnoles des Pays-Bas (Nieuwkoop, 1965), is in the Biblioteca Nacional, Madrid.

1686 Mr Jak restored Joh. . Harding’s Chronicle 4°. London. 1543

STC 12767. Dee’s copy was in Sotheby’s sale of 29 October 2009, lot 56. At the head of the title is ‘Joannes Dee .1574.’ There are some underlinings, sidelinings, and annotations throughout, most of a general nature, but some relating to the ‘British History’, and Dee’s ‘imperial’ interests. According to Sir Henry Ellis’s edition of Hardyng’s Chronicle (1812), p.xiii, this copy belonged to a Mr. West (James West, d. 1772) and later to George Hibbert M.P. The book is no. 3816 in the catalogue of West’s sale, which began on 29 March 1773. Like the previous item (no. 1685), it was restored to Dee by Thomas Jack. A partially deleted name on the titlepage and on fol. Tt2 of the Continuation has been read as Willm Ottrye or Ottye (17th century?). The book was offered in a catalogue of J. Pearson & Co., London [1901], from which it was acquired by the 5th Earl of Rosebery, and was sold as part of his ‘English library’ in 2009. It is now in a private collection.

Voigts, p. 289, points out that our note on M37, which states that M. R. James writes that this manuscript was owned by Marshall, is not correct. That is so; all that James says is that any of the manuscripts in the list he prints might have come from Marshall. The contents do no more than suggest that it was the kind of book that he might have been interested in.

Roberti Gloucestrensis, Chronica, rhythmmo Angloico. papyro. 1°

¶BL, MS Harley 201 fits this description subject-wise but is written on parchment and is a small quarto. Nevertheless it is certainly a Dee manuscript; on fol. 162 upside down in Dee’s hand, is ‘laus Deo a die 2 october anno 1562’, and marginalia in an italic hand very similar to his contain names from the ‘British History’ e.g. Eldol, Gorlois, Merlinus, Malgwyn. MS Harley 201 was acquired by Simonds D’Ewes, whose collection contained many other Dee manuscripts; it is A889 in A. G. Watson, The Library of Sir Simonds D’Ewes (London, 1966). The Trinity catalogue’s entry is followed, in an unrecognized hand of s. xvii(?), by ‘I thincke this is in ye Cotton. It beginneth at Will. ye Conq.’ The reference is presumably to MS Cotton Caligula A. xi item 1, on parchment in quarto, said in the Cotton catalogue to begin with Brutus. For other manuscripts see C. Brown and R. H. Robbins, The Index of Middle English Verse (New York, 1943) and Supplement (Lexington, 1965), no. 727. For comments on Cotton manuscripts, see Colin G. C. Tite, The Early Records of Sir Robert Cotton’s Library: Formation, Cataloguing, Use (London, 2003).

For Roger Marshall see now the reference above under M36, 37.

For Cope see now revised text in Watson, Medieval Manuscripts, ch. VIII.

The manuscript comes from St Augustine’s Abbey, Canterbury: see the revised description of Digby 159 in Bodleian Summary Catalogues IX, Digby Manuscripts. 1 Reproduction of the 1883 Catalogue by W. D. Macray. 2 Notes on Macray’s Descriptions of the Manuscripts, by R.
W. Hunt and A. G. Watson. Appendix: An Edition of Thomas Allen’s Catalogue of his Manuscripts by A. G. Watson (Oxford, Bodleian Library, 1999), pt. 2, 71. Identification as a St Augustine’s book was made by Professor Charles Burnett, who observed that fols. 10–87 are in the hand that wrote fols. 1–169 of Cambridge, Gonville and Caius College, MS 456/394, which is no. 1174 in the Abbey’s library catalogue printed by M.R. James, Ancient Libraries of Canterbury and Dover (Cambridge, 1903), and also in the edition by B. C. Barker-Benfield, St Augustine’s Abbey, Canterbury, Corpus of British Medieval Library Catalogues, forthcoming, where there is much new information about the manuscript. For the entry in Allen’s catalogue see Watson, in Hunt and Watson, above, 170.

M128 The text has been reedited, with a detailed description of the manuscript, by B. C. Barker-Benfield, as M106 above.

M155 For ‘magistro R<ogero>’ read ‘magistro R<ogero Marshall>’ for whom see now the references under M36–37 above. Voigts, p. 301, Postscript, notes further details in the book of Marshall’s use but she errs in stating that it may possibly be identified with the Roger of Hereford text Leland recorded as a Marshall gift to Peterhouse, Cambridge. She correctly identifies it as our M155, but it contains no work by that author, which is, however, recorded in M153, an untraced manuscript.

M159 An inexplicable confusion, detected by Dr Nigel Ramsay, has overtaken this entry, and most of lines 2–5 should be removed. The note therefore reads, ‘Probably British Lib., MS Cotton Vespasian A. II fols. 11–40; ss. xii & xiii. At the top of fols. 27 and 35 is ‘De computo’ in Dee’s hand. The calendar on fols. 19–25 has insertions which point to St Augustine’s Abbey, Canterbury, and the wording of the catalogue entry for it (James, and Barker-Benfield, as above M106, no. 1128) corresponds exactly to Dee’s catalogue, but MS Cotton Vespasian A.II fols. 11–40 cannot be identified with that since it lacks the secundo folio (continentur) noted there.’

M171 Line 3 from end: for ‘lot 83’ read ‘lat. 83’.

M199 Line 7, sentence beginning ‘When and by whom the original manuscript was split up is not clear . . . ’: Dr Nigel Ramsay has drawn our attention to the entry for 30 January 1845 in Sir Frederic Madden’s diary, now Bodleian MS Eng. Hist. c. 158, p. 32, one of many entries dealing with the theft of manuscripts from Trinity College. Madden identifies our manuscript as no. 343 in the list of the manuscripts of Dr Thomas Gale, dean of York, etc., 1635(?)–1702, printed by Edward Bernard, Catalogi Manuscriptorum Angliae et Hiberniae (Oxford 1697), ii, 185–95. Since many of Gale’s manuscripts were acquired by Trinity College and there is an unknown gap between Dee and the College, the identification is all too tempting. It is, however, false for Bernard’s no. 343 has no resemblance to Dee’s manuscript. The suggestion in M. R. James’s Trinity catalogue that it might have reached Trinity from John Wilson, Fellow, d. 1751, therefore stands, as do AGW’s further but tentative speculations on the matter in Watson, Medieval Manuscripts.
List B

B152  L’algebre de Jacques Peletier

Dee’s copy of a Lyon, 1554, edition by Jean de Tournes was offered in Quaritch’s catalogue no. 1305 (2003) item 56. It is signed ‘Joannes Dee 1555’. A later owner, ‘Nico Wanton’, was probably responsible for the annotations.

List D

D5a  Cicero, Marcus Tullius, Tusculanæ quæstiones. Lugduni, apud Seb. Gryphium, 1541, 8°

Dee’s copy is now BL, 8461.b.13, inscribed in an upright hand not wholly italic, ‘Iste liber pertinet ad me Johannem Dee teste Barleo, Smitheo, Odell cum multis alijs’ (all deleted). Barley was probably Henry, scholar or fellow of Trinity, Cambridge (as Barkeley) BA 1546–7; Odell probably Fulke Woodhull, matriculated at St John’s, Cambridge, Michaelmas Term 1544. Both are in AC. On the verso of the titlepage are ‘Liber Rogeri Cook ex dono Domini Dee. / 1569’ and ‘Liber Francisci Jones ex dono Georgij Wood 1635.’ For Cook see R&W p. 43; a Francis Jones matriculated at Lincoln College, Oxford, in 1636 (AO); Wood has not been identified. On the flyleaves are many pen-trials, including ‘For Mr. Meritt Deane’, presumably Merrit Deane of St John’s, Cambridge, d. 1740 (AC). There are notes throughout in a rather unsure italic, probably Dee’s, and in other hands in secretary. There are translations into English, e.g. on p. 33, against ‘pusio’, is ‘a little boy’ and on p. 87, against ‘ballistae’, ‘An ingin or crossbow wherewith a stone or arrow is shot’. The book has all the appearance of a Cambridge undergraduate’s book.

Dee’s copy was in the Macclesfield Library at Shirburn Castle, and was acquired by Maggs Brothers. (Information from Paul Quarrie.) No signature, but there are notes by Dee on English history, notably upon the execution of Queens Anne Boleyn and Catherine Howard, and upon that of Mary Queen of Scots in 1587 . There are a few corrections. In a contemporary vellum binding with yapp fore-edges Dee’s copy is London, Wellcome Library, 6495/A/1 (information from Julianne Simpson). On sig. B1, fol. 1, are ‘John Dee Warden 1597’ and ‘R. Mead’ (Richard Mead, 1673–1754). On title-page is ‘Achillis de Buttrigar et amicorum’ (16th century). Several members of the Bottrigari family of Bologna bore the name of Achille during the 16th century and were connected with the law (information from the University of Bologna). The book has the bookplate of ‘Georgius Kloss M. D. Francofurti ad Moenum (1787–1854). The text is without annotation. The binding is of rough vellum.

D26  Wynman, Nicolaus, Colymbetes. sive de arte natandi, dialogus & festivus & iucundus lectu. Augustæ Vindelicorum, excudebat Henricus Steyner, 1538. 8°

Dee’s copy is TCD, Lib. DD.i.65. It has ‘Joannes Dee’ at the head of the titlepage. There are a few Dee underlinings but no evidence that the book was used. Later owned by abp. Ussher.

DM3a  ¶Cambridge, Trinity College, MS O.2.21 (1125), Geoffreý of Monmouth, Historia regum Britanniae, and other works. Parchment, ss. xiii, xiv. Title on fol. 5 is in Dee’s hand (information from Professor W. H. Sherman), also three Jupiter marks on fol. 1 and two on fol. 2. On fol. 1b is ‘G. Carew, presumably George Carew, baron Clopton and earl of Totnes, d. 1629.

DM107  For John Booker see now ODNB.

DM116  In line 1, for ‘fols. 1–37, 77–127’ read ‘fols. 1–37, 77–86’. In lines 4–5, delete ‘R. Wallingford’ to end of sentence. In line 1 of the note, delete ‘105’ and for ‘fols. 77–87’ read ‘fols. 77–86’*.

DM134  The pressmark of MS Arch. Bodl. D.32 is now Arch. B.c.3 (SC 2783).

DM165  Johann Tritheim, Steganographia

Mr Daniel Huws has informed us that a transcript in Dee’s hand is NLW MS Peniarth 423 (Hengwrt 214). Beneath the title Dee added ‘A tenebris & pulueribus in quibus sepultum hactenus iacuit diligentia et studio Jacobi Casteluitrei Londini MDXCI’. The date ‘1591’ suggests that this is not the copy about which Dee wrote to Cecil in 1563 (R&W p. 6) but a later copy from a text supplied by Castelvetro, for whose activities at this time see RJR, ‘New light on the career of Giacomo Castelvetro’, Bodleian Library Record, 13 (1990), 365–9. The manuscript was formerly wrapped in a bifolium of a psalter of s. xiv. Other leaves were used to wrap MSS Peniarth 293i (Hengwrt 277) and 294 (Hengwrt 277), both of which were owned by John Jones of Gellilyfdy, and further leaves survive among Peniarth binding fragments of unidentified manuscripts. On fol. [i] is ‘Samuel Harris’, s. xvi/xvii.

The above title comes from the sale catalogue of the Duke of Lauderdale’s books (London, 1692), no. 17. According to Professor Deborah Harkness, to whom we owe the initial identification of Dee’s copy, BL, MS Sloane 8, the book was earlier referred to by Elias Ashmole as ‘a folio MS. which was Dr. Dee’s with the words on the first page, Aldaraia sive Soyga vocor’. Copies of a Latin text called ‘Aldaraia’ are in Bodleian Lib., MS Bodley 908, Summary Catalogue 2939) and MS Sloane 8. Neither contains evidence of Dee’s ownership, but the scribe’s title at the head of fol. 2 of MS Sloane 8, a folio volume on parchment, is ‘Aldararia siue Soyga vocor’ followed in another hand by ‘Tractatus Astrologico Magicus’, which leaves no doubt that it is Dee’s book or a close copy of it.

Since both of the known manuscripts are in Latin, of late-sixteenth-century date and probable English origin, neither appears at first to answer to Dee’s description of his ‘Arabic book’ but that phrase may have been his shorthand description. It is possible that they are translations made in the 1590s when he was seeking opinions about his book.

On the text and for a description of MS Sloane 8 see J. Reeds,‘John Dee and the magic tables in the Book of Soyga’ in Clucas, John Dee: 177–204 and pl. 10. For Professor Harkness’s observations see her chapter ‘The nexus of archaeology, eschatology, and natural philosophy in John Dee’s Angel Conversations and library’, ibid., 275–82, at 278–9.
